people taking these pills most likely have a mental illness and need to cope, but the only way they find to cope is by taking these prescription drugs when not prescribed to them.

rub chap stick on the bite as quickly after receiving it as possible without scratching it corticosteroid can ease the pain by stopping or slowing down the inflammation near the nerve