about that kick in the crotch: if you were thinking that “daddy’s homo” might make a nice movie to take the family to over the holidays, think again.

among the tested landscape variables only landscape composition, especially grassy field margins were significantly positively correlated with wireworm damage at the 25ha scale.

however, another study that dates back to 2004, conducted by a urologist named Temucin Senkul, has proven that in some cases, circumcision will even improve the issue of premature ejaculation.
