they like being challenged and trusted to handle tasks that are different from their normal routines.

fighting in Syria has divided its smaller neighbor along sectarian lines, with Sunnis supporting Syrian rebels and Shi’ites backing President Bashar al-Assad.

Instead of a product that should have consisted of 8 vitamin C, they were selling a mislabeled product consisting of 40 vitamin C.