the benefits to the few are highly visible; the costs to the majority are hidden because they are spread so widely and detached from the subsidies.

very hard to understand and after another 15-20 mins of looking up the same thing the first lady looked